The DiSTI Corporation Names Chris Worrell Director of Business Development
The Orlando-based Simulation and Training Company welcomes Chris Worrell as Business Development Director.

Orlando, FL (February 23, 2021) – Leading training and simulation company, The DiSTI Corporation announced today that experienced sales and business development professional, Chris Worrell, has been appointed as Director of Business Development.

Following a career in sales spanning over 20 years, Mr. Worrell joins DiSTI having most recently served as Director of Navy & USMC Strategic Business Development at Kratos Defense and Security Solutions.

"Chris Worrell's understanding of the defense market will be invaluable as he joins our experienced business development team," said DiSTI CEO John Hayward. "The defense market is vital to DiSTI's growth strategy, and attracting Chris continues our commitment to sustained growth. As DiSTI builds on our continuing success after a record-breaking year, Chris brings proven government and private sector success. I am extremely pleased he has accepted the challenge to join our team and help us grow across our defense and commercial markets."

Before joining The DiSTI Corporation, Worrell successfully captured over $220M+ by identifying new opportunities, presenting solutions, and executing best practices. Over the course of his career, he has established a proven record. One that includes building relationships and exceeding sales and profitability goals while working within high-performing teams to support organizational success.

"I am honored and excited to join a company with the stellar performance and reputation of DiSTI," declared Chris Worrell. "I am looking forward to contributing to the esteemed reputation DiSTI has of providing the warfighter extraordinary training solutions."

In Chris's role as Business Development Director at DiSTI, he will be responsible for strategic planning and pursuing opportunities within our defense-related businesses. Chris will play a critical role in DiSTI's strategic growth.

"All of us at DiSTI are excited to be welcoming Mr. Worrell to his new role. As leaders in the Simulation and Training market, we are unwavering in our commitment to superior customer service, and Chris will continue that legacy," stated Hayward.
